An Awful Holocaust at The Gay French Capital.

THE REVELERS DIED BY THE SCORE.

In a Fiery Furnace They Met Their Cruel Fate.

RICH ROOSTED WHILE HELPING THE POOR.

More Than One Hundred Human Beings Burned to Death—Fire In a Crowded Bazar Being Held For Charity—Victims Are Among the Highest Society of the French Capital—Heartrending Scenes as the Bodies Are Being Recovered.

Paris, May 5.—Fire broke out at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in a crowded charitable bazaar in the Rue Jean Goujon, at which the Duchesse d'Uzes and other well-known patronesses were present. Many were burned to death and scores of persons were injured.

One hundred corpses have been laid out in the Palais de l'Industrie. It is believed that another hundred are beneath the ruins.

The building was erected in the flimsiest manner, the nudity of scaffolding inside being concealed by tapestry hangings of the most inflammable material. Moreover, there was only one exit. The bazaar was in full swing, when suddenly the cry of fire rose in the quarter where the cinematograph was being exhibited. Before the firemen could arrive the roof of the bazaar crashed in, burying numbers of those who had been unable to make their egress from the building. Although an alarm was sent out with reasonable promptness the whole wooden structure was ablaze before the firemen could approach the bazaar. The roof and almost the whole building collapsed, falling upon the unfortunate people, many of whom are supposed to have previously succumbed to the stifling smoke.

The prefect, M. Lepine, was one of the first officials to reach the scene, and he directed the operations for the recovery of the bodies and distributed the injured among the various houses of the vicinity.

The dead were piled in heaps, and near the exit the charred remains were five feet deep. In some cases only the trunks remained, with no vestige of clothing. The firemen and a company of infantry followed to clear the ruins and search for corpses. The news spread like wildfire. All the cabinet ministers now in Paris went immediately to the scene. Hundreds of equipages streamed along the Champs Elysees, their occupants, with anxious and tear-stained faces, inquiring for their relatives.

There were many heartrending scenes of grief and despair. Cabinet ministers, ambassadors, noblemen and members of the highest social and financial circles were side by side with the lowliest and the poorest, anxiously inquiring for their missing relatives. About thirty were saved by Pere Ambroise and Pere Bailly, who helped them over the wall with a ladder to the printing room of the newspaper La Croix.

The staff of the Hotel du Palais lent gloves, have been deputed by the persons through a barred window overlooking the bazaar, where, while the hotel employees were carrying away the bars, they saw three persons burned to death.

Police, their hands covered with gloves, have been deputed by the perfect of police to pick out the portions of remains and to wrap them in pieces of cloth, to be transferred in ambulances to the Palais de l'Industrie. The remains present a horrible spectacle of limbs burned and twisted. On all sides can be seen stretchers piled with mutilated corpses, skulls split open and brains extruding. Just behind a heap of corpses lies alone the body of a woman. The face is downward, the head burned, the brain exposed, and from the empty socket of the right eye the brains are slowly oozing. The arms and legs are burned off.

A little farther off is the body of another woman, nude, the entrails protruding and the head missing. It is a ghastly sight.

The building was constructed about six months ago. At the time it was remarked that it would burn like matchwood. The interior was divided into shops a la old Paris, constructed of prettily painted canvas.

One of the survivors tells to the correspondent of the Associated Press his experience:

"The place was crammed full of people and the heat was stifling. Bing very uncomfortable my friends and I determined to leave, but somehow, we could not make much headway through the throng toward the door. I lagged a little behind, as I was offered a nosegay by a stall-holder when, on a sudden, the shout of fire was raised. Instantly all was commotion.

"We tried to keep cool, but the rush from behind forced us forward and we were separated. Then I tried to work my way back, but I was carried off by my feet and carried backward and forward in the swaying crowd. I lost my hat; then my coat was torn off, and then my waistcoat. All this happened in a few seconds.

"Immediately the full extent of the calamity dawned upon us all. The flames spread with startling rapidity through the whole building which rumbled like a living furnace, but the uproar of the conflagration could not drown the groans and cries of the agonized crowd. Gradually I found myself pushed back against the wall of the building, and finally succeeded in scrambling through an opening made by some of those who were near me. Two seconds later I would have been a victim, for hardly had I struggled through the hole before I heard a dreadful crash as the blazing roof fell in.

"I cannot describe the struggle for life which ensued. No words can depict the horror of the scene. It seems as I look back upon it like a hideous nightmare. The whole thing was over in twelve minutes and nothing remained but the charred and blackened ruins of the bazaar."

It appears that the fire originated on the left side of the bazaar. The illuminating apparatus of the cinematograph exploded and set fire to the Turkish curtains and hangings. In a few moments the flames spread along the whole side of the bazaar.

The bazaar altogether had eight doors, three in front and one on the left side. In the rear were four, like French windows, which were specially reserved for the employees. The crowd near the main entrance were able to escape, but those at the other end, not knowing of the doors reserved for the employees, found themselves hemmed in as in a cul de sac.

As the fire spread the pressure on the right side where there were no exits, kept steadily increasing. Here a number of victims were crushed to death. Happily the wall of the Hotel du Palais, against which the bazaar backed, furnished a barred window. Immediately on the alarm being given the servants hurriedly broke the bars and were able to rescue a large number of persons. Above the roar of the flames were heard cries of terror and despairing appeals for help from the cul de sac end, where the unfortunates were being burned alive. The firemen threw hundreds of buckets of water upon them from above, at the greatest risk to themselves, but their courageous efforts were all in vain.

Cries of despair arose outside, in the Avenue Montaigne, the Place Alma and the Rue Francs, adjacent streets. In all these thoroughfares there was a veritable flight of maddened people, mostly women without skirts, petticoats or hats, their feet naked and their clothing either burned off or torn off.

The whole of the highest society in Paris is in a horrible pell mell, a prey to the deepest despair, husbands seeking and calling for wives and fathers seeking and calling for daughters.

Words would fail to describe the horror of the scene at the Palais de l'Industrie, where the bodies are exposed on the side next to the Avenue Banton, in a portion of the building now in course of demolition. Here in a large room rudely covered with rough planks, and on sheets spread over planks, the bodies as they arrive from the ambulances are being placed in three long rows. Here is exemplified death by fire with all its horrors, bodies completely nude, limbs twisted in the writhings of agony, some still having shreds of clothing which assist recognition in spite of horrible disfigurement, bones visible through fire-eaten flesh, some merely skeletons or grinning skulls blackened with smoke.

A large force of officials is engaged in regulating the admission of friends at the entrance, which is besieged by crowds shouting and fighting. Only small groups are admitted at a time, and the visitors are supplied with candles to assist them in their lugubrious search.

As soon as President Faure heard of the disaster he sent the most pressing inquiries for full particulars to the prefect of police. All the theaters in Paris are closed.

Owing to the difficulty of continuing the search for the purpose of identification by the light of torches and candles, the Palais de l'Industrie has been cordoned by the police, who are watching the bodies. The wounded are now known to number at least 180. Mme. Flores, wife of the Spanish consul, expired at the Hospital Beaujon, where are several others injured. M. Faure has visited the hospital and the Palais de l'Industrie to pay his respects to the dead.

An electric light has been installed at the scene of the fire to assist the firemen in recovering the bodies. It is now noticed that in most cases the heads of the victims were burned to a cinder, even when other parts of the body were not much injured. This is explained by the fact that the thickly tarred roof fell in blazing masses upon the heads.

It was reported that Mlle. Lucille Faure, who left the Elysee to go to the bazaar, had perished. M. Hanotaux drove up in great haste to inquire concerning her, and was immediately followed by Mme. Faure, pale with terror

TARIFF BILL IS UP FOR DISCUSSION

MEASURE FINALLY REACHES THE SENATE.

Over a Thousand Amendments Have Been Made in Committee—Leaders Appointed For the Struggle—Arbitration Treaty Vote Estimated—Free Homestead Bill Passes.

Washington, May 5.—The tariff bill was reported to the senate Tuesday. The Democrats examined the bill in the finance committee for nearly an hour, making running comments upon it. They announced that they were against the bill as a whole. They soon understood that Senator Jones (Nev.), was going to vote with the Republicans and realized that there was no possibility of changing the bill. They had no desire to make any factious opposition and when a motion was made by the Republicans to report the bill at once the vote was taken promptly. All the Republicans, with Senator Jones (Nev.), voted for the motion and all the Democrats voted against it, the vote standing 6 to 5. Later in the day Senator Aldrich announced that he would call up the bill Tuesday, May 18.

The Republican members of the committee say there is no statement to be made now as to the effect of the bill, the amount of revenue to be raised by it or the reductions. When the bill is taken up in the senate Mr. Aldrich will make such a statement in the opening speech. "It will raise revenue enough," was the comment of Senator Allison, assented to by Senator Aldrich. They estimated, however, that the increased revenue to be raised from beer would be $13,000,000 and from tea $10,000,000.

Senator Jones (Ark.), the Democratic tariff leader, said that he expected there would be about six weeks' debate on the bill.

Several sections in the last part of the Dingley bill which re-enacted the present law are stricken out. This will have the effect of letting the present law stand and avoid discussion to a great extent.

The new bill is radically different from the Dingley bill, practically amounting almost to another measure. Many important schedules were rewritten entirely. The senate has increased the internal-revenue duty on beer.

The retroactive clause of the Dingley tariff bill is stricken from the senate bill. The entire house provision relating to reciprocity has been stricken out. The house provision in the tariff bill keeping in force the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty is stricken out, the effect being indirectly to abrogate the treaty and impose the same duty on Hawaiian sugars as is imposed on sugars from other countries.

The lumber schedule is changed by adding after the word timber the words "hewn, sided or squared and round timber," and the duty fixed at the rate of one cent per cubic foot, as in the house bill. Many and important changes were made in the wool and woolen schedule. First-class wools were reduced from 11 cents per pound, as provided in the house bill, to 8 cents per pound, and second-class wools from 12 to 9 cents, whereas the duties on wools of the third class were raised. The dividing line in this latter class was placed at 10 cents value, wools under that value being dutiable at the rate of 4 cents per pound instead of 32 per cent ad valorem, as in the house bill. Wools valued at more than 10 cents per pound were placed at 7 cents per pound instead of 50 per cent ad valorem.

There are several changes in carpets. A paragraph is added specifically providing "that all articles, fabrics and manufactures, however described, of which wool is a component material, shall be classified and pay the duties imposed by the several paragraphs of this schedule."

An important change was made in tobacco taxes, under the internal-revenue laws.

Chairman Morrill of the finance committee has relinquished the floor management of the tariff bill to Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, who, strong of voice, robust of body, and the ranking tariff expert in either branch of congress, will be well able to stand the fatigue and the trial of controversy. He will be backed up by Senators Allison, Spooner, Burrows and a string of lesser tariff lights. Senators White of California and Gorman of Maryland are expected to do the heavy Democratic fighting.

ANXIOUS FOR PEACE DISPATCHES SAY

GREECE IS READY TO GIVE UP THE STRUGGLE.

Ministers Recommend the Cabinet to Sue For Peace—Significant Statement in the British House of Commons—To Increase Turkish Army to Three Hundred Thousand Men.

London, May 5.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail says the ministers of war and of the interior have returned from Pharsala and made their report to the cabinet.

It is understood that as the result of their inquiry the war will be discontinued.

The parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. George N. Curzon, in the house of commons Tuesday, replying to a question, said that communications on the subject of mediation were continually passing between the powers, who earnestly desire to see the war between Greece and Turkey ended. "But," he added, "the first essential to successful mediation is evidence that the belligerents are prepared to accept it."

Regarding Crete, Mr. Curzon said the powers intended to carry out the project of autonomy, but the continued presence of the Greek troops and the consequent attitude of the Christian Cretans rendered progress very difficult. It is not true, Mr. Curzon said, that the Christians lack supplies.

To Increase Turkish Army.

Constantinople, May 5.—It has been decided to increase the strength of the Turkish army in the European provinces to 300,000 men, in order to be prepared for all emergencies. Including troops in Anatolia, Turkey will soon have 500,000 men under arms.

PLAN TO SAVE THE LEVEES

Twelve Thousand Men at Work Above New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., May 5.—There are now over 12,000 men at work on the levees south of the Red river, putting them in condition for the rise now coming down the river. If the planters will give up all plantation work and concentrate their entire force of laborers on the dikes they will escape, is the final warning given out by the state engineers. If they fail to do so and think their corps more important the chances are in favor of crevasses and no crop at all.

Silver Republicans to Organize.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 5.—Silver republicans representing each of the thirteen congressional districts met here Tuesday and appointed a provisional state committee, which will be represented at a meeting in Chicago June 8, when a national provisional committee will be formed. Extensive litigation is probable.

Dubuque, Iowa, May 5.—The trial of Harris vs. The Modern Woodmen of America to recover $20,000 for injuries received during initiation into a local lodge began Tuesday. This question has never been decided.

Minnesota Towns in Danger.

Duluth, Minn., May 5.—Smoke from fires burning in the forests north and west of Duluth has settled down on the city in a manner unpleasantly reminiscent of the great Hinckley fire in 1894, when over 400 persons lost their lives. TO PLAY BASE BALL TODAY.

Beloit College-Chicago University Contest At the Line City.

Beloit, Wis., May 5.—The Beloit College-Chicago University ball game will commence at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at Keep athletic field. It has been decided that Dr. Hollister shall pitch for the College club. This is a guarantee that Beloit will put up a strong game, for she never has failed in this respect when Coach Hollister, who is a power to the team, has been in the box. The local players are not disheartened over the results of Saturday's game, although they are not proud of its results, for in spite of the defeat Beloit had spurs of very excellent ball playing. Some changes will be made again for the game and it is expected that the club will stand stronger than ever. There is no questioning the fact that the club puts up a good fielding game, and with Hollister to pitch the Chicago University must send out her best ball players if she hopes for a victory.

DOE DOES NOT WANT TO TALK.

Defends Mr. Whitton in Preference to Himself, Milwaukee Paper Says.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin of yesterday says: "Gen. J. B. Doe this afternoon made an emphatic denial of the charges concerning his conduct as assistant secretary of war. It was his wish, he said, to take no notice of the accusations and he yielded only on being pressed. Gen. Doe said that he did nothing and that he took nothing that he did not have a right to do and take. The statement that a number of cases that he had caused to be packed for shipment had been seized and opened in Washington was news to him. That he had taken books and other articles with him, he did not deny, but they belonged to him, had been given to him, and he had a right to take them away."

"The ex-assistant secretary of war appeared to be more anxious to refute insinuations made against his former secretary and until recently chief of the supply department, Mr. Whitton, than to defend the attacks upon himself. The charge that the former chief, Mr. Thorpe was discharged, Gen. Doe characterized as false. The truth of the matter was, he stated, Mr. Thorpe resigned of his own accord and for personal business reasons. Mr. Whitton was made acting chief of the division and his work was so satisfactory that he was appointed chief clerk by the secretary, with an increase of salary. During one year of Mr. Whitton's service, Gen. Doe stated, he saved many thousands of dollars to the government."

"General Doe was averse to making specific denial of the charges against him, because he said it was simply lending dignity to a mass of ridiculous falsehoods. The fact that President Cleveland and Secretary Lamont had called on him before he left Washington, General Doe said, and expressed their appreciation of his services and commended his administration, he considered sufficient. He denied that he had been obliged to make restitution to the government in any way."

ARTICLE BY DR. D. H. WILLIAMS

An Account of a Wonderful Feat in Surgery Is Given.

Dr. Daniel H. Williams, formerly of this city, but now of Washington, has written an account of an operation, by which the life of a patient who had received a stab wound of the heart, was saved. The article was printed in the Medical Record of March 27, 1897, and then issued in pamphlet form.

Dr. Williams is now the surgeon at the Freedmen's Hospital at Washington.

LOCAL HORSES AT THE SALE.

Janesville Equines Put On the Block—Patches Brought $15,000.

Nineteen head of horses owned by local horse buyers were offered for sale in Chicago at the Spaulding-Newsall sale today. The firm of A. F. Phillips and William Hadden shipped nine head, while Will Davis and E. H. Brooks were the shippers of ten. All the gentlemen interested are now in attendance at the sale. The horses, with the exception of two, were "drivers" and would average 1,300 pounds each.

Joe Patchen, the famous pacer who set the Janesville track record for an exhibition mile at the 2:04 1/2 mark, on July 15, 1895, was sold at auction at this sale yesterday. O. W. Marks of Chicago bought him for $15,000.

The Blessing of Strong Nerves

Is recoverable, not by the use of mineral sedatives, but by a recourse to effective tonic treatment. Opium and the like should only be used as auxiliaries, and then as sparingly as possible. Vigorous nerves are quiet ones, and the most direct way to render them so is to reinforce the vital energies. That sterling invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will be found all-sufficient for this purpose, since it entirely removes impediments to thorough digestion and assimilation of food, so that the body is insured its due amount of nourishment, and consequently of stamina. Rheumatic tendencies and affections of the kidneys and bladder are also counteracted by the Bitters, which is besides a thorough medicinal stimulant, infinitely purer than the raw exotics of commerce, which react injuriously on the nervous system.

Eat them while they are cheap; bananas only 10 cents a dozen. Sanborn's.

NEW "INSANE LAW" IS NOW IN FORCE

PATIENT OR FRIENDS CAN DEMAND JURY TRIAL.

Right of Voluntary Commitment Can Also Be Exercised by Paying a Minimum Amount For Maintenance Temporary Detention Feature Likely to Reduce Number of Commitments.

The new law under which insane patients will be committed to the asylum is now in force. The bill emanated from the State Medical society in cooperation with the Bar Association and State Board of control. The first draft was made by the doctors and the second by Joshua Stark. Afterward ex-Chief Justice Lyon made the third draft to cover a wider field of interest to the State Board of control.

Practically the method of commitment will not differ so much from the old way. Under the new law three persons will make application for an inquiry into a person's mental condition. Such application is made before County Judge Sale only. Two physicians are then appointed to make the examination. These physicians are required to give the patient notice of the proceeding and of his right to a hearing unless it would be injurious for him to have such notice. They report to the judge, who uses his discretion as to sending him to the asylum, even if the physicians report against it. The widest discretion is allowed the judge. Thus he may order the alleged insane person to be brought before him and have the examination conducted by the physicians in his presence, or he may act upon the report of the physicians at once, or he may order the temporary detention of the person pending further medical observation, or he may appoint a guardian and litem, or he may make any further investigation of the case, even to ordering a jury trial.

May Demand Jury Trial

The patient or any friend may before commitment demand a jury trial of the question of his sanity; after his commitment that privilege is only accorded to some friend acting in his behalf.

The voluntary commitment clause is an important innovation in the law. By virtue of this a patient can enter an insane hospital for treatment as he would any other hospital. He must pay a minimum amount, to be determined by the authorities, for his maintenance and can leave when he desires, provided that he is in a fit condition to go at large. This ought to reduce the number of commitments, as many patients may be persuaded to enter the hospital voluntarily rather than be committed and have the adjudication of insanity.

The temporary detention feature is also important, and if properly carried out should reduce the number of commitments from one-fourth to one-third. It provides for the temporary detention of the alleged insane for further medical observation and that such detention shall not be in jails or lockups. Of ten patients thus held for a week or two there will be at least two or three whose symptoms will clear up and who will not have to be committed.

IS DEFENDING MURDER CASE

Attorney E. Ray Stevens Appears For Edward Ayres, at Madison.

Attorney E. Ray Stevens, formerly of this city, but now of Madison, is defending Edward Ayres of the Capital City, who is on trial on the charge of murdering a man named Peterson. Peterson's body was found in a water works trench. Ayres was arrested, but discharged. He then sued the chief of police, and the case going against him, he was at once re-arrested for the murder.

The floor was in charge of Charles B. Barnard, W. A. Rossow, George H. Robinson and Otto Smith.

PRASE SENATOR WHITEHEAD

Lake Mills Leader Speaks of the Janesville Man's Ability.

The Lake Mills Leader has these kindly words for Senator John M. Whitehead. "In a visit to the capital city during the closing scenes of the legislature, we were offered opportunities for learning the estimate placed on the quality of many of the representatives of the people, and it is with feelings of pride that we are able to say that the senator from this district, Hon. John M. Whitehead, suffered nothing when brought into comparison with those whom the public has considered the bright lights among our law makers of the last session of the legislature. The fact was willingly conceded that Mr. Whitehead had few if any superiors in debate, and that none were more courageous in defense of their convictions. During the entire session he is credited with diligence and persistently labored to get the sense of every measure, and was thus equipped at all times to do battle for what seemed to him to be the correct thing. He took a firm stand on the moral side of every question, such as the corrupt practice act and the anti-cigarette bill, etc., and in every instance made a forceful defense of the position he adopted. Such was the prevailing opinion of opponents as well as collaborators, and the people of this senatorial district, with such testimony in favor of their senator, have no reason to regret the choice they made of a representative for the upper house of our legislature. Men quick to discern the right, with conscience to adopt and ability to defend it are the men needed in the halls of legislation, both state and national and these qualities in our state senator may prompt the people to say to him 'come up higher.'

THOUGHT IS OF HER BABES

Mrs. Swinson Dislikes To Have Them Go To Sparta.

Mrs. Carl Swinson of Fulton, whose four children are now in this city for the purpose of being taken to the children's home at Sparta, was in town this week to see Poormaster Kenyon, and protest against their being removed. The children are boys, whose ages range from six to twelve years. A year ago, Mr. Swinson, suddenly left home and he has not been seen or heard of since. Poverty compelled Mrs. Swinson to part with her loved ones. "I didn't object to the children being removed to Sparta," Mrs. Swinson said, "but I can't stand the thought of there being given away to whoever wants them. If they are not to stay at the school, I do not want them to go."

LAKE BEULAH CASE ENDED

Water Power Owner Cannot Lower the Lake's Level, the Court Says.

Janesville people who annually visit Lake Beulah, and especially the local Y. M. C. A. members who camped there last summer, will be interested in this decision of the supreme court. The Lake Beulah case is chiefly remarkable for its novelty. The body of water known as Lake Beulah, in Walworth county, is formed from what, in a state of nature, was a chain of three smaller lakes connected by water streams. Some forty years ago a dam was built at the outlet of the lower lake in the chain which raised the water to such a degree that they formed one body of water that was thereafter known as Lake Beulah. The power from the dam was used until about twenty years ago to operate a grist mill. About that time the mill burned. In 1892 the owner leased the power to John Howitt, who proposed to apply it to the operation of a mill at Mukwonago. The right was claimed by Howitt and the owner of the dam to lower that structure, which resulted in so lowering the water in Lake Beulah that the pleasure resorts were left with a great strip of muddy land between them and the lake. The owners of the cottages and resorts brought suit for an injunction restraining the owners from lowering the water, and Judge Fish granted the injunction. The supreme court sustained the injunction.

Human Safety Valves

The kidneys are the safety valves of our bodies.

They determine and calculate to a nicety just how much of the products of digestion are good and necessary to make pure blood, strong muscles and active brains.

An excess of these products is clogging and poisonous in its tendencies, often producing rheumatism, Bright's disease, diabetes, etc.

If our kidneys are healthy they act at once to throw off this excess. They rapidly filter it out of the blood through the urine.

If the kidneys are weak, diseased or sluggish, they cannot do this.

The poisons and impurities collect and sickness and possible death is the result.

Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills

Keep our human safety valves healthy and working constantly for our good.

An Honest German's Opinion of Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills.

Neenah, Feb. 1, 1897.

Those Sparagus Kidney Pills which I received of you are fully up to what you recommended them to be. My wife took the first dose, as she was badly troubled with lame back caused from her kidneys, and next morning she felt better from the effects of them. My neighbor complained of backache all the time. I told him I had some medicine home that would help him. I gave him eight of your Sparagus Kidney Pills and he says he is going to get a box tomorrow. My wife says she will not be without them after this.

You may joyfully use my name as a recommender if you wish.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1782—John James Audubon, famous American naturalist, born; died 1851.
1796—Horace Mann, American educator, born at Franklin, Mass.; died 1859. William Hickling Prescott, American historian, born at Salem, Mass.; died 1859.
1798—Outbreak of the last extensive Irish rebellion; it cost 20,000 English and 150,000 Irish lives.
1799—The English took Seringapatam, India, by storm; Tippon Sahib, sultan of Mysore, was killed.
1814—Napoleon Bonaparte landed in Elba.
1861—President Lincoln called for 42,000 volunteers for three years and informed foreign powers of his intention to maintain the Union by war.
1885—Irwin McDowell, general, died in San Francisco; born 1815.
1892—Destructive floods in western rivers. Fatal tornado in Missouri.
1896—Andrew S. Fuller, noted horticulturist and entomologist, died near Ridgewood, N. J.

AN INVESTIGATION NEXT.

The Milwaukee Sentinel has interviewed Gen. J. B. Doe concerning the charges made against him and says that he was "not inclined to talk much upon the subject." Presumably the General does not care to forestall the investigation which he will of course demand. The charges have been deliberately made by a number of leading newspapers, giving circumstances, dates and testimony of witnesses. A congressional investigating committee will take great pleasure in setting him right before the people if he makes the request and the charges are found to be false. It is hardly possible that he will not demand an investigation for he owes this much to himself, the State of Wisconsin and the administration of President Cleveland.

BETTER DAYS FOR FARMERS.

A good many car loads of pork are being shipped from Janesville these days, horses are in demand, corn is going up little by little, while wheat sells for remunerative prices. The farmer is not doing any grumbling these days, and has not had occasion to do any in several months. The things he has to buy were never lower in price than they are at present, while those he has to sell are higher than they have been in several years. If the Bryanites had carried the country last year the farmer would, in silver dollars, be getting 15 or 20 per cent. more for his products than he is receiving today, but those dollars would not be worth quite half as much as the money in which he is now paid.

There is a suggestion to this country in the declaration that if Spain had not destroyed her forests she would not have become a decadent nation, depending on colonies for support. After the forests disappeared, springs and small streams followed, and agriculture heavily declined.

Not Janesville Baptists alone, but people of every denomination, regret Dr. W. G. Hodge's retirement from the pulpit. This regret is only tempered by the thought that the doctor continues to make Janesville his abiding place.

The beginning of Gen. Doe's career is sketched by the Sheboygan Telegram in the brief remark: "Doe was one of those ranting blatant reformers who helped by his work on the stump to fool the people into turning the government over to Democracy."

If the senate has any doubt about the will of the country regarding a tariff bill ten minutes spent in any telephone exchange should be enough to convince.

As long as the lamp ordinance is to be enforced why not do wheelmen a good turn by enforcing the law against unclaimed and ill-tempered dogs?

The fact that Turkey owes $800,000,000 to Russia, England and Germany may explain some peculiar features of the Greco-Turkish war.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE

Chicago, May 5.—[Special]—Liverpool speculators changed their minds over night and responded to our break and then again we responded to their response and that is the way we received so much bull news that the downward tendency was checked. The London statistic for instance makes the statement that eighty million bushels of wheat will be required from Russia and the United States during the next three months, and as our contribution must of necessity be very small, Russia will be taxed heavily. French crops were again reported bad, and the telegram intimated that France must be an importer of wheat. The report was somewhat fortified by an advance in the French markets. Minneapolis reported 30,000 bushels of wheat taken there for shipment to Indiana mills; New York reported 100,000 bushels, taken on the seaboard; and there was wheat taken here. We do not need much demand here to clean out our stock entirely by the middle of July. There are eleven weeks left yet and the decrease of 700,000 per week will sweep our bins and then if there is any demand for shipments in July cash wheat must command a big premium. When the crown abandoned May and bought July above so I said the bull side was doomed and I was correct. Since then by late season and damaged to winter wheat July has practically ceased to be a new crop option and wheat should be scarce in July, but if the bulls now abandon July and buy September they will be licked again. July wheat should command a premium. Cash wheat is hard to get now, and will be harder from day to day unless all demand ceases.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

GENUINE CAKE WALK TO BE HELD HERE

COLORED FOLKS COMING ON A SPECIAL TRAIN.

Event Will Simply Dazzle the White People Who Have Never Seen An Event of This Nature the Managers Say—Rockford and Beloit to Be Represented.

Janesville is to have a cake walk. Fifty colored couples will take part; the event is scheduled to take place at the Armory. Prof. Smith's full orchestra will play.

The colored folks who will take part are mostly residents of Rockford, and the only open question regarding the arrangements is whether or not a special train can be secured to bring the party to this city.

William J. Brooks, the gentlemanly cook at the Hotel Myers, is managing this end of the affair, and is now arranging the final details. A genuine cake walk has never been held here, and the event will draw an audience that will tax the Armory, for while the colored folks will do the walking the general public will be invited to attend.

It is the intention to have each of the twenty-five couples give their exhibition singly, while a committee of white and colored judges will decide who should get the prize. Then the white fifty couple will "all walk round."

To See Gay Garments.

The women will be "at their best." The brightest and costliest of silks will be worn, while the gayest of ribbons flutter.

The gentlemen will wear the full evening dress, and all the art known so the barber trade will be brought into use. As one local colored man said:

"It will just simply dazzle the white people who have never seen a real cake walk."

Just who will lead the march, yet remains to be seen. Rockford has a couple of couples whom the colored folks say are "good," while Beloit comes forth with a pair that they say "can't be beaten."

A "walk" given by the same people recently took place in Rockford and the audience packed the hall. As yet the date of the event has not been set, but it is the intention to hold it this month.

THEY GAVE A CHARMING TEA

Mrs. C. P. McLean and Mrs. E. A. Bristol, Entertain This Afternoon.

Mrs. C. P. McLean, assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. A. Bristol, gave a most delightful afternoon tea this afternoon at her home in the Waverly flats on North Main street. The rooms were tastefully arranged, and potted plants and cut flower added beauty to the scene. Tea was served at small tables, the decorations being in green and white. The tables were presided over by Miss Alice Helmstreet and Mesdames C. B. Bostwick, C. D. Stevens, E. J. Smith and C. C. MacLean. Among the invited guests were:

Messrs: A. F. Burnham, H. S. Sloan, Margaret Allen, I. C. Sloan, W. H. Judd, J. F. Baker, F. Field, J. F. Sweeney, C. C. MacLean, H. F. Bliss, E. H. Pence, C. D. Stevens, D. K. Jeffris, J. C. Ehlis, W. F. Palmer, C. N. Vankirk, N. L. Carle, J. W. St. John.

Misses: Estella Rose, Chicago; Maud Crane, Cora Sutherland, Alice Ehlis, Louise Eldredge, Julia Ehlis, Jessie Ehlis.

INSPECTOR HERSHEY IS HERE

Says Small Losses Influenced the Insurance Companies Favorably

State Fire Insurance Inspector H. H. Hershey of Racine, arrived in this city this noon and is quartered at the Hotel Myers. To a Gazette representative Mr. Hershey said that the drop of twenty per cent. in fire insurance rates meant much to the citizens of Janesville, and was given mainly, because of the good showing made by this city in the matter of fire losses during the past three years.

"In August, 1893, the rate was raised 20 per cent. by the eighty odd companies now doing business here," said Mr. Hershey, "but these companies have now agreed to make the reduction, which means a saving of thousands of dollars annually to the people carrying insurance."

WHEELMEN are making no objection to the enforcement of the lamp and bell ordinance. Their main source of complaint is that the dog law is not enforced half as strictly. The wheelman who has just paid a five dollar fine for riding without a bell, and who finds an untamed, unclaimed dog snapping at his heels, begins to think that canines have more influence than cyclists with the local authorities.

FOUR CYCLERS PAY FINES OF $1.00 EACH

LOCAL RIDERS APPEAR BEFORE JUDGE PHELPS.

They Enter Pleas of Guilty, and Settle Fine and Costs Amounting to $3.40 Each—Others to Be Called Upon Soon—Barry Gets a Change of Venue.

"It is a much better investment to buy a $1 bicycle lamp and have it to show for the money, than it is to pay a fine of $3.40 and have nothing to show for it but experience."

That statement was made by a local cyclist in the municipal court this morning. Three others agreed with him, the decision being reached after they had each pleaded guilty to the charge of violating the city ordinance.

The young men who have the honor of paying the first fines imposed in the city of Janesville are: Bert Palmer, Charles Ward, Arthur Pate and Charles Munger. At 9 o'clock this morning they filed into the court room. None of them had an attorney, and each declared that they desired no legal advisor.

Judge Phelps then read the ordinance to them, and then each pleaded guilty. A fine was then imposed of $1 and costs or a total of $3.40 each, which they paid. The other men who are "on the list" will go through the same routine as soon as Chief Hogan finds it most convenient to take them into court.

Others Fined Later.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon George S. Parker, of the Parker Tea Company, and Elmer Grove, appeared in the municipal court to answer to the charge of violating the ordinance. Both gentlemen pleaded guilty and the court imposed a penalty of $1 and costs or $3.40 each, which they paid.

The case of the State of Wisconsin vs. Richard Barry, Jr. was called this morning. District Attorney Jackson representing the state, while Attorney Wilson Lane defended. Attorney Lane asked for a change of venue to the circuit court. The motion was granted and Judge Bennett will try Barry.

GORDON HOUSE IS MOVED.

Residence That Stood in Hamilton's Addition Is Taken Away.

The only building that marked the John "Windy" Hamilton addition, near the State School for the Blind, was removed today to the Milwaukee Spring Brook addition. The building was the Gordon residence that was erected in the boom days. When the factory blew down several months ago, the Gordon residence was the only structure left standing that was erected at that time. Mr. Jordan says he moved into the Milwaukee addition in preference to any other part of town.

Now Is the Time to Get a Home.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway has just published a newspaper called the Northwestern Home-Seeker, giving facts about the great state of South Dakota and the advantages it possesses for the pursuits of agriculture, dairying and cattle raising. Lands can be had at present upon most favorable terms, and there is every indication of large immigration into the state this season. Correspondence is solicited from intending settlers, and a copy of the paper will be mailed free upon application to W. B. Kniskern, 22 Fifth avenue, Chicago, Ill.

Montell Kemmerer.

Montell Kemmerer, one of the best known young farmers of the town of La Prairie, died at his home in that township at 1 o'clock this morning, aged thirty-five years. Mr. Kemmerer had been ill for some four or five months. He was a son of Reuben Kemmerer, and was born and raised in Rock county. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his untimely death. The funeral will be held from the house Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Occasionally a man thinks he will try buying his clothes of some one else other than The Old Reliable Tailor who has served him well. He gives his order to some traveling shark who takes his measure and has the suit made in some sweat-shop in Chicago. When the suit arrives the buyer sees at once that the clothes are poorly made, have the cheapest of trimmings, and don't pretend to fit. Of course they came C. O. D. and he has them on his hands. Then they are taken to some small tailor to have alterations made which all cost money. After they have been altered several times they still don't fit and this "occasional" man throws them aside or gives them to some tramp.

How much money has this man saved?

Had he gone to some reliable tailor and ordered a suit well trimmed and well made by experienced workmen for from $20 to $25 he would not only be money ahead but would have been saved much annoyance and trouble and would have the satisfaction of knowing that he got his money's worth and could wear a suit that he was proud of.

E. HALL,

MILLINERY NOTES.

Rough Fancy Straws—Flowers, Gauze, Ribbon Lace and Feathers.

Among the many pretty things in the millinery line to be seen this spring are hats all of one color—violet, blue, green or red. They are of colored straw, trimmed with gauze and flowers to match. Purple straws are ornamented with violets, blue ones with blue flowers, green ones with green flowers, or green roses and red ones with scarlet poppies. The effect is decidedly picturesque, although rather solid for delicate faces.

Rough fancy straws are greatly in the majority, very few fine, plain ones being seen, except as the fine straw serves sometimes as a crown for the coarser variety. There are openwork chenille braids like-wise, made into various shapes.

There is plenty of variety in fashionable millinery trimming this season. Flowers, tulle, gauze, ribbon, velvet, lace, feathers, silk and straw pompons and jeweled ornaments are all employed, and if there were anything else that could be utilized in millinery it would doubtless be pressed in.

SPRING COSTUME.

to the service. Everything is fashionable, and almost everything is often seen on the same hat.

Blue, purple and green veils are seen, made to match the prevailing headwear, but these brilliant veils are most unbecoming to the complexion and should be avoided. Black, white and gray are by all means the best, although brown may be worn with fair success.

Today's sketch shows a costume of light blue silk with black stripes. The skirt has three large horizontal tucks half way up its length, these being its only ornament. The close bodice has a very short basque and is slightly draped in front, fastening at the left side by three butterfly bows of black satin. The full plastron is of white gauze, the dalmatic collar being double, the lower collar of black satin, the upper of white gauze over blue silk. The sleeves have ruffles on the outside between the shoulder and elbow. The hat of black straw is trimmed with black satin and black plumes. White roses are placed under the brim, while a paste buckle fastens the bow.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WEDDING GOWNS.

Pure White Dresses—Simplicity Essential. The Quality of Veils.

The time approaches when marriages are conducted with particular appropriateness and enthusiasm. Of course people are married all the year round, but in the early summer there is an added poetry and romance to weddings, given by the lovely weather, the new foliage and the opening flowers.

The wedding gown being of a peculiar character, it is less affected by the fluctuations of fashion than any other costume. It follows the general outline that prevails at the moment, but devoid of all the extravagances and eccentricities of the mode, whatever they may be. Virginal simplicity is the keynote of the costume, and whatever ornaments or accessories are introduced, according to the vogue of the season, are toned down to meet the requirements of the case. In France it is usually to be observed that the most aristocratic brides are the most simply attired, with the exception of the veil, which is of exquisite modern or antique workmanship. Candor compels the admission, however, that beautiful as these priceless bridal veils are in themselves, they are far less becoming than the plain tulle ones worn by less richly dowered brides. A French writer says—to be sure, she is speaking to an entirely catholic public: "The most appropriate bridal robe is that which shows the pure lines of the figure unbroken by any useless and vulgar detail. The form ought to be left free to appear supple and elegant, showing the shape of the neck, the arms, the shoulders, the entire person, in fact, in its juvenile beauty. In the ceremony of marriage, all the forms of which are regulated, the bride should not appear like a white bundle, but like a beautiful statue, to which the gown and veil are molded."

Among the new sleeves seen this season are the two of which a picture is given. The first fits the arm closely, and is ornamented at the top by coques of ribbons forming an epaulet. The wrist is adorned by smaller coques. The second sleeve is suitable for a tailor made costume. It is lightly draped by three plaits at the shoulder, the slight bouffancy of the outside fastening over by three buttons. There are large cuffs at the wrists.

"Indeed," said Strapely, corralling the butter.

"Not this morning," replied Strapely.—Yonkers Statesman.

"They say," he said, "that talk is cheap."

CURRENT NOTES OF INVENTION AND DISCOVERY.

Do Mosquitoes Convey Malaria?—Electric Carriages No Longer a Novelty in the Larger Cities—A Contrivance That Keeps Bed Clothing on Children.

Do Mosquitoes Convey Malaria?
If it is possible, according to the best accepted beliefs, that sufficient poison can be carried on the feet of a fly to cause the death of a human being, it certainly would not tax credulity to believe that the mosquito is capable of carrying malarial diseases, and that it is possible that to this annoying and persistent insect malarial districts owe their extremely bad reputation. An Italian scientist thinks he has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the mosquito is the cause of a very great many of the malarial fevers and kindred diseases that afflict the sons of men. He says malaria is not carried by wind, as in breezy localities this disease is comparatively unknown; also—which fact will be admitted by every one—that malarial districts are mosquito districts. The question, therefore, might naturally arise whether the mosquito is not the prime cause of the malaria as well as the carrier of it. It might be well to examine the blood of a mosquito, and see if the malarial poison germ is not found there. Of course, after the insect has taken its full of human gore, the examination might reveal multitudes of malarial microbes, and this would prove nothing, except, possibly, that the person from whom the insect had fed was full of these same germs. It is too marked to be altogether a coincidence, that people who live in mosquito and malaria infected localities, and who rarely go out at evening, and in consequence are rarely bitten by mosquitoes, are not likely to suffer from malarial conditions. Certain travelers who have been noted for their carelessness in protecting themselves from mosquito bites, have declared that they experienced no difficulty whatever from malaria; but these two facts have but recently been put together to form a basis for a theory. It would be interesting to know if that cutting and saw-like lance with which the mosquito carves its way through the flesh of its victim contains in its sharp teeth malaria parasites, which need only the slight invitation extended by this state of things to leave their lodging places and take up their abode in the quivering flesh of the bitten individual. It is so frequently the case that this lance is broken off in the flesh that it would be worth while to investigate and discover, if possible, whether the violent inflammation and fever that follow this act is not to an extent a malarial fever, and whether by this course of reasoning we may not arrive at the cause of malaria, and through this same means discover a cure.

Electric Power Carriages.
From Pennsylvania Grit: Some time ago Grit printed a picture of one of the electric carriages introduced in London, England, where a company has established regular omnibus and special service routes. This form conveyance is now in practical use in Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Chicago, and other large cities of the Union, where paved streets are the rule. A concern which has begun the manufacture of these vehicles on a large scale has established headquarters in New York City. It is as yet only in its infancy, and has only about a dozen vehicles on exhibition at its salesrooms. These arrived from Philadelphia, where the factory is situated, about two weeks ago. Since then they have been operated about the streets. There is a motor vehicle which, on Sept. 11, 1896, made a five mile run at the Narragansett Park races, in Providence, R. I., in 11 minutes and 27 seconds. The average time per mile was two minutes 17 seconds, and it covered the distance at the rate of little more than 26 miles an hour, establishing a record for motor vehicles. The Hansoms and surreys in use are fitted with two 1½ horse power motors, both attached to cast-iron retorts, lined with thin Doulton tiles, and the vapor is taken from these retorts to large upright wrought-iron cylinders, which are lined with a considerable thickness of fire brick, and are filled with "pills" made of a mixture of magnesia and potassium chloride mixed with a certain amount of china clay. On passing through these pills the chlorine in the vapor is completely retained, setting the ammonia free; hot air is subsequently passed through, which in its turn sets free the chlorine, the pills being then ready to decompose more ammonium chloride, and so on in a continuous cycle. This, briefly, according to the London Chronicle, is the perfected process as now pursued by English manufacturers.

About By-Products.
The by-products of the Pittsburgh gas works, says the Post of that city, pay the expenses of that profitable establishment, and leave its receipts for gas clear gain. Concerning by-products of other industries, it is said that those of oil refineries are both profitable and valuable; and the molasses of beet sugar, once considered and treated as comparatively of no account, now supplies very considerable quantities of potash and alcohol. Oleic acid, a residue of stearine making, is now utilized in soap making. The mother water of salt works furnishes much useful material; the soapy liquor in which raw wool has been washed is made to produce large quantities of grease known as "Rheims grease," for soap making, and, in fact, nearly half the weight of some fleeces is of a substance which, treated with an acid, gives the Rheims grease.

To Keep Children's Bedclothing On.
A good thing to keep children from throwing off the bed clothes at night and catching cold is a new invention—bed clothes fastener—designed to be fastened to the head of a wooden bedstead by a screw, or around a brass bed post by a cord with a ring and snap hook. This device is so constructed that gripping arms cannot hurt the most delicate textures, and can be adjusted to light or heavy and bulky coverings. The grip arms take hold of the clothes in something of the same way as suspender garters hold stockings, but with a hinged joint between the two arms. One of the arms is fastened to the elastic at one end, which has also a ratchet toothed groove to engage the hooked end of the other arm. The clothes are thus fastened in, and the device closed tightly to hold them up.

Markings on Venus.
Mr. Percival Lowell's observations at Flagstaff of the "markings" on the planet Venus have proved of special interest to astronomers. These markings, as reported by him to the Boston Scientific Society, are surprisingly distinct, in the matter of contrast as accentuated, in good seeing, as the markings on the moon, and owing to their character they are much easier to draw, in the matter of contour, too; perfectly defined throughout, their edge being well marked and their surfaces well differentiated in tone one from another, some being darker than others, while a large number of the markings, but by no means all, radiate like spokes from a certain center. Notwithstanding all this curious system, there is about them nothing of the artificiality observable in the lines of Mars, they having the look, on the contrary, of being purely natural. Continued observation also show them to be not only permanent, but permanently visible unless the seeing is very poor, and they are to be seen in the same places; moreover, the drawings made show that the markings maintain their places with regard to the terminator, the continuous watch upon them proving this completely. The steadfastness of position is evidence of the slowness of rotation, this being coincident with the year.

The Chlorine Industry.
The peculiarities of the chlorine industry as now conducted are due to the recently improved methods by which the ammonium chloride is obtained in a crystallized state from the solution as produced in the ammonia soda process, the effect being to lower the temperature of these solutions considerably below freezing by means of refrigerating machinery. The ammonium chloride is then vaporized in long

A SIMPLE TIRE REPAIR.
Punctures in the well known Morgan & Wright tire are mended about as easily as a man would close a hole in his finger with a bit of court plaster. Inside of the inner tube of the tire lies a long strip of patching rubber, like this:

By injecting M. & W. quick-repair cement through the puncture into this inner tube, and then pressing down on the tire with the thumb, like this:

the repair strip inside is picked up by the cement, thus closing the puncture, like this:

Very simple, but—now every rider should remember these two "buts," or he will fail:
Before injecting cement, pump up the tire. If you don't, the inner tube will be flabby, like this:

and the cement will not get inside of it, where the repair strip lies.
When you have a puncture, get right off. Riding a tire flat, when it has a tack or nail in it, may damage it considerably.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.
From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.
Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good. The 25 and 50 cent for sale at C. D. Stevens, pharmacy, Cor. Main and Milwaukee.
